1950

A Review of the Highlights

At the LA PORTE HIGH SCHOOL
LA PORTE, INDIANA

Presented by

The El-Pe Staff

"All the world's a stage
And the men and women are merely players;
They have their entrances and exits."

Premier Performance

WE, the seniors of 1950, present our final production. Let us take you behind the scenes to show you every phase of activity that makes up this play—the classroom, the dance floor, the stage, and the athletic field.

THE staff wishes to thank the producers, directors, cast, and stagehands for their assistance. So without further delay, the house lights dim, the curtain rises, and we present to you "Slicer Life."

Social Life - - An Important Scene

Presenting our Leading Lady - - Joanne Bigham

ALMOST a thousand young people of LaPorte High School are training for parts in our play. Every role, no matter how large or how small, is important because it adds to the finished production. In the meantime we are growing socially, as well as mentally and physically. The social phase is important because the kind of city we shall live in tomorrow is being determined now by the students of LaPorte High School in their work and play. After four years of understudy, we shall soon assume our places as adult citizens who will serve community and country.

Our Directors

School Board and Administration

Seated: Elwood O. Haun, Treasurer of the Board of Education; Carl R. Baumgartner, Secretary of the Board of Education. Standing: Dr. G. O. Larson, President of the Board of Education; John M. French, Principal of LaPorte High School; Paul F. Boston, Superintendent of Schools.

Under the capable and conscientious leadership of the Board of Education, the superintendent of schools, and the principal, the school system of LaPorte has become one of the finest in the state.

The aim of the administration is to maintain a thoroughly modern and efficient school and to equip it with capable leaders to assist the students in their development.

The School Board, an interested group, sacrifices time and effort to help the school provide the opportunities necessary for the good training of LaPorte's young citizens.
